Baby Watch Early Intervention (EI) Specialist I
Levels 1, 2, 3 Requirements

Educational prerequisites: High school diploma or Graduate Equivalency Diploma (GED) plus post-secondary school training, such as a Child Development Associate (CDA) credential, an associate degree or a non-related bachelor's degree.

Typical job responsibilities: The EI Specialist I provides direct intervention, such as planning/organizing small group activities, carrying out therapist-prescribed intervention, or serving as a service coordinator under the supervision of a professional staff member.

Competency requirements: As described in the Baby Watch Competency Standards, the EI Specialist I must “demonstrate knowledge of, recognize and apply in work practices,” which requires that knowledge be demonstrated through their job performance. For example, knowledge of child developmental milestones is not sufficient; an example of how this knowledge was applied is required, e.g., when communicating with parents, when planning activities.

Early Intervention Specialist I
(Sample Job Description)

Personnel Standards:
The Early Intervention Specialist I must have a high school diploma or a Graduate Equivalency Diploma (G.E.D.), plus one of the following post secondary school trainings, e.g., Certificate of training in a related field (COTA, PTA, PAT), Child Development Associate (C.D.A.), an Associate Degree, a non-related Bachelor's Degree, or at least 2 years of experience working with families and children.

Responsibilities:
The Early Intervention Specialist I Levels 1, 2, & 3, may provide early intervention services, according to supervision requirements, in the following:

1) May work as a leader of a group of children and may do direct services.

2) May provide Service Coordination activities.

3) May interview the parent(s) to gather information about the child's functioning and/or about the family's concerns, priorities, and resources.

4) May conduct evaluations for eligibility—only under the following conditions:

   A. An EI Specialist I Levels 1, 2, & 3
      a. May participate in evaluation/assessments if the Early Intervention Specialist II or III is present and active in the same evaluation/assessment process. For example, the Early Intervention Specialist I who has been appropriately trained may assist in the completion of one of the protocols for one of the domains on a transdisciplinary assessment, if the professional is present in the same room and is also doing part(s) of the assessment.

   B. An EI Specialist I Technical Professional
      a. May conduct evaluations if the EI I Tech is well trained on the specific assessment, and is within the guidelines for specific tests to administer the test.
      b. May conduct evaluations for eligibility only under supervision and with consultation of an EI II or III to determine eligibility.

5) Determine the need for further assessments.

6) May summarize assessment information, help in the development of IFSP and outcomes (EI I Tech only).
7) May administer assessments for purposes other than eligibility if the EI I is experienced working with children birth to three, is well trained on the specific assessment, and is within the guidelines for specific tests to administer the test.

8) Assist the Early Intervention Specialist with translation services.

9) Coordinate transitions to Part B programs.

10) Conduct home visits

* The well-trained Early Intervention Specialist I may perform these tasks only under supervision. This supervision must include all of the elements of the supervision requirements described below. The supervision regulations under state licensing for each discipline also apply. The EI professional assumes responsibility for this arrangement and makes appropriate documentation of such (e.g., IFSP, lesson plans, home visit reports, progress notes, etc).

Competency requirements: As described in the Baby Watch Competency standards, the EI Specialist I must “demonstrate knowledge of, recognize and apply in work practices,” which requires that knowledge be demonstrated through their job performance. For example, knowledge of child developmental milestones is not sufficient; an example of how this knowledge is applied according to best practice is required, e.g., when communicating with parents, when planning activities.
